

GENERAL'S HANDBOOK 2020

Designers' Commentary, July 2020

The following commentary is intended to complement the General's Handbook 2020. It is presented as a series of questions and answers; the questions are based on ones that have been asked by players, and the answers are provided by the rules writing team explain and how the rules are intended to be used. The commentaries help provide a default setting for your games, but players should always feel free to discuss the rules before a game, and change things as they see fit if they both want to do so (changes like this are usually referred to as 'house rules').

Our commentaries are updated regularly; when changes are made any changes from the previous version will be highlighted in magenta. Where the date has a note, e.g. 'Revision 2', this means it has had a local update, only in that language, to clarify a translation issue or other minor correction.

Q: There are some army-specific keywords that are not covered in the Anvil of Apotheosis; for example, there is no way to give a Mortal a 'Mark of Chaos' keyword and there is no way to give a Kharadron Overlord the MARINE keyword. What should I do in situations like this?

A: The Anvil of Apotheosis was designed to help players bring the narrative characters of their creation to life on the battlefields of the Mortal Realms. If there is a keyword that should apply to your character but the rules do not cover it, discuss with your opponent before the battle and come to an agreement on which additional keywords are appropriate for the character you have created.

Q: Can I use rules from older publications in Pitched Battle (2020) games, such as Mercenary Companies from the General's Handbook 2019?

A: Yes, but only if your opponent agrees or a house rule permits it.

Q: The Pitched Battle Profiles 2020 book does not include profiles for warscrolls or warscroll battalions from previous editions of White Dwarf magazine, from battleboxes like Carrion Empire or for store-exclusive limited edition models. Can I use these profiles in Pitched Battle (2020) games?

A: Yes, but only if your opponent agrees or a house rule permits it.

Q: The scenery rules for Pitched Battles (2020) instruct you to randomly generate a scenery rule for unique terrain features, even if they have a warscroll. Does this mean I use both the warscroll abilities and a randomly generated scenery rule for that unique terrain feature?

A: No, use the randomly generated scenery rule for that unique terrain feature only.

Q: Can you explain why the Matched Play Auxiliary Objectives rules instruct players to pick 2 Auxiliary Objectives, while the Pitched Battle, Meeting Engagement and Coalition of Death tournament packs instruct players to pick 3 Auxiliary Objectives?

A: This is to allow the Auxiliary Objectives to be used as more effective tiebreakers, rather than relying on 'kill points' to separate tied players at organised events.

Q: Do the bonus points described in the Pitched Battle, Meeting Engagement and Coalition of Death tournament packs apply to victory points scored for a battle or only to my tournament score?

A: They only apply to your tournament score and have no effect on the victory points of the battleplan being used.

Q: Can you explain in more detail how to determine the number of victory points I score in the Places of Arcane Power battleplan?

A: Victory points are scored at the end of each of your turns only. This means that you would score 1 victory point if you gained control of the objective in the same turn, you would score 2 victory points if you controlled the objective at the end of your last turn and had not lost control of it since, and so on.

Q: Do terrain features that are included in or added to your army during a battle count as models in your army, such as for the purpose of determining control of an objective?

A: No.

Q: Some of the Pitched Battle (2020) battleplans award additional victory points if units with a specific battlefield role control an objective. Does this include allied units that have the Battleline battlefield role?

A: Yes.

Q: Can a friendly unit with a 'Battleline if' condition in its Pitched Battle profile lose its battlefield role if that condition is no longer met during a battle – for example, if a unit of Orruk Ardboys that was taken as a Battleline unit in an Ironjawz army has less than 10 models after removing slain models from play?

A: No.

Q: If the answer to the previous is 'No', how do units that have battlefield roles that are added to your army during a battle work with the Pitched Battle (2020) battleplans?

A: These units are added to your army after you have picked your army using the Pitched Battles rules and therefore do not count toward the maximum number of battlefield roles that can be taken in a Pitched Battle army. This means that any units that are added to your army during a battle do not gain the battlefield roles listed on their Pitched Battle profile.
