

SEASON OF WAR: THONDIA

DESIGNERS' COMMENTARY, OCTOBER 2022

The following commentary is intended to complement Season of War: Thondia. It is presented as a series of questions and answers; the questions are based on ones that have been asked by players, and the answers are provided by the rules writing team and explain how the rules are intended to be used. The commentaries help provide a default setting for your games, but players should always feel free to discuss the rules before a game, and change things as they see fit if they both want to do so (changes like this are usually referred to as 'house rules').

Our commentaries are updated regularly; when changes are made any changes from the previous version will be highlighted in magenta. Where the date has a note, e.g. 'Revision 2', this means it has had a local update, only in that language, to clarify a translation issue or other minor correction.

Q: Does an incarnate heal all of the wounds allocated to it in the battleshock phase, regardless of the result of the roll to determine whether its level is reduced?

A: Yes.

Q: The Summons to War battlepack states that 'Neither player can include faction terrain features in their army.' However, no such restriction is stated in the Strife in Thondia battlepack. Please can you confirm if faction terrain features can be used in the Strife in Thondia battlepack?

A: You can use faction terrain features as normal in the Strife in Thondia battlepack, unless the battleplan being used states that only certain players are allowed to set up faction terrain features. In these battleplans, only the specified players can set up faction terrain features.

Q: If an ability prevents an endless spell from being dispelled (e.g. the Disciples of Tzeentch battle trait 'Arcane Armies'), can I use the Krondspine Incarnate of Ghur's 'Devour Endless Spell' monstrous rampage and pick that endless spell?

A: No.
