Heed the drums and the reptilian roars of the jungle and join the gathering Lizardmen armies as they march forth for battle.

Character

The Slann

First amongst the Old Ones' servants, the Slann are beings of incredible intellect and unparalleled magical ability. Although they are not physically menacing, the Slann wield magic so powerful they can topple cities, wash away their foes in torrents of flame or even terraform the earth itself with a simple gesture. Even the mightiest Wizards will find their most potent spells unravelled effortlessly by the Slann, before being scorched, crushed or otherwise laid low by the Mage-Priest's own magic. From atop their floating palanquins, the Slann continue to enact the will of the Old Ones and work towards the completion of the Great Plan.

Saurus Heroes

The longer a Saurus lives, the tougher and more ferocious it becomes; their hardened scales grow as hard as iron, lethal protrusions sprout from their bodies and their corded muscles become so powerful they can break rock with their bare hands. It is these experienced warriors who lead the Lizardmen in battle when the Children of the Old Ones are marshalled for war.

Character

Skink Heroes

On occasion, a Skink spawning will not produce a horde of the diminutive Lizardmen, but will instead birth just one – a rare occurrence that is said to mark the individual for greatness. Those who scurry forth that show any proficiency in the arcane will be trained as Skink Priests; assistants to the mighty Slann. Whilst they are unable to wield the world-bending arcana of their masters, the Skink Priests' mastery of magic is still akin to the Wizards of the younger races. Those who don't display magical proficiency will become Skink Chieftains; cunning leaders who become responsible for marshalling war parties, organising construction and other such tasks to ensure the wheels of the Great Plan remain in motion.

Terradons

These dangerous predators hunt with sharp talons and elongated beaks filled with needle-like teeth. Intruders to the jungle quickly learn to fear the ominous shadow of their wide wingspan or to hear their shrill and piercing cries as they swoop overhead.

Ripperdactyls

Amongst the most aggressive creatures in Lustria, Ripperdactyls soar above the jungle canopy constantly on the hunt for fresh prey. Although they are vicious killers, there is one foe that always drives these airborne reptiles into a mindless rage – the Lustrian blot toad.

Infantry

Temple Guard

Temple Guard are a prized and rare spawning of Saurus warrior. Created for the sole purpose of protecting the Slann and the temple cities in which they dwell, Temple Guard use heavy ornamental halberds to dispatch anything that might threaten their charges. These deadly warriors dedicate themselves to their task with every fibre of their being, displaying a single-minded determination that results in either the safeguarding of the Slann or their own deaths. It has been known for Temple Guard to stand sentry for centuries at a time whilst a Slann meditates, remaining poised to neutralise any threat to the vulnerable Mage-Priest even as dust gathers on their scaled hides.

Saurus Warriors

When the armies of the Lizardmen are called to war, it is the Saurus who make up the hardened core of their fighting forces; which should come as no surprise, for the Old Ones created the Saurus for this very purpose. Unarmed, Saurus are extremely dangerous – their razor-sharp claws can gouge rock as easily as rend flesh, whilst a blow from their heavy tails can crush bone and crack armour. If that were not enough, their crocodilian jaws are filled with enormous teeth capable of severing limbs and crushing steel.

Infantry

Skink Skirmishers

Skittish and swift, Skinks are unique amongst the otherwise sluggish and physically intimidating Lizardmen. These diminutive creatures were created by the Old Ones to perform many different roles and, without them, Lizardman society would quickly begin to collapse. With excellent physical and mental dexterity, Skinks can slip through the jungle with ease, enabling them to outflank and surround the enemy with little risk of discovery.

Chameleon Skinks

With their innate ability to mirror the patterns of their environment, Chameleon Skinks are the ultimate ambush warriors. Able to sneak within arms length of the enemy, Chameleon Skinks will fire a hail of toxic blowpipe darts at their targets with incredible accuracy, before slinking undetected back into the jungle.

Skirmish Screen

In battle, Skinks swarm around the legs of Kroxigor. When the enemy draws near, the Kroxigor charge through the Skinks, who instinctively know to get out of their way.

A unit with this special rule can draw a line of sight over or through friendly units of Skink Skirmishers and can move through friendly units of Skink Skirmishers that are in Skirmish formation. If this unit's move would result in it ending up 'on top' of a friendly Skink Skirmisher, simply nudge that model aside, by the smallest amount possible, to make space for this unit. Whilst in Skirmish formation units of Skink Skirmishers can treat friendly models with this special rule that are within 1" of one or more of the unit's models as a part of the unit for the purposes of unit coherency.

Infantry

Kroxigors

Initially created by the Old Ones to aid with the construction of the great temple cities, Kroxigor are hulking muscular creatures with an enormous maw filled with dagger-like teeth. During times of war, these brutes are used as destructive shock troops as they set about enemy battle lines with huge clubs, each taller than a man and twice as heavy.

Jungle Swarms

When threatened by invaders, or when amassing a force to strike at far-off lands, a Skink Priest will call upon the jungle's smaller denizens to aid them in the coming battle, forming a writhing carpet of highly venomous snakes, spiders and insects.

Salamanders

Large predatory animals that stalk the swamplands of Lustria, Salamanders propel themselves around with four thickly muscled legs and a powerful tail that allows them to swiftly manoeuvre on both land and in water. Salamanders hunt by sight and bring down their prey by launching a torrent of highly corrosive venom at their target – this venom is so volatile that it ignites upon contact with flesh, metal or stone and burns their victim alive.

Razordons

Covered from nose to tail in great spines of hardened bone, Razordons cast a most intimidating silhouette. As defensive protection goes, being covered in iron-hard spines is enough to put off most of Lustria's predators, but a Razordon's spines are not just for protection. When angered, a Razordon can discharge the spines from its body with powerful muscle spasms, showering any would-be assailants in a hail of deadly thorns.

Fireleech bolas	6"	S+1	-	Flaming Attacks, Move & Shoot, Quick Shot

Cavalry

Cold One Cavalry

Saurus warriors are already deadly fighters, but when mounted atop a charging Cold One they become some of the most fearsome shock cavalry to ever set foot on the battlefield. Those who choose to hold against such a cavalry charge will quickly find themselves under attack from not only the snapping jaws and slashing talons of the Cold Ones, but also the keen thrusts of the Saurus' long-bladed spears.

Terradon Riders

These fast moving flyers act as scouts and messengers during times of war, able to relocate at a moment's notice as they soar above the jungle canopy. When battle commences, it is not just the poison-tipped javelins or scorching fireleech bolas that the enemy should watch for, as the Terradons are notorious for bombarding their prey with rocks as they swoop overhead, crushing armour and skulls alike.

Ripperdactyl Riders

Special Rules: Armoured Hide (1), Cleaving Blow (Ripperdactyl only), Cold Blooded, Fear, Fly (9), Furious Charge (Ripperdactyl only), Impetuous, Skirmishers, Swiftstride, Toad Rage

Toad Rage

Ripperdactyls are driven into a feeding frenzy by the scent of their favourite food – the Lustrian blot toad. Should one of these ugly amphibians seek refuge amongst the ranks of the enemy, flocks of ravenous Ripperdactyls will quickly descend upon them.

Before the game starts, but after Scouts have been deployed, you may place one Lustrian blot toad marker for each unit of Ripperdactyl Riders in your army (counting only units, not including characters mounted on Ripperdactyls). A single blot toad marker can be placed on any enemy unit on the battlefield, this marker remains throughout the battle.

When engaged in combat with an enemy unit with a blot toad marker, Ripperdactyls (but not their riders) gain the Extra Attacks (1) special rule, and may re-roll any roll To Hit of a natural 1.

Cavalry

Ripperdactyl Riders

Forgoing the usual javelins and blowpipes, Ripperdactyl riders don ceremonial helmets and arm themselves with long spears and shields; a far better combination of armaments given the Ripperdactyl's inclination towards tearing their prey to shreds with sword-like talons. For reasons unknown, the Ripperdactyl's favourite food is the Lustrian blot toad, an odorous creature that drives the flying reptiles to be even more bloodthirsty than usual. Skinks, being the cunning creatures that they are, will hide blot toads amongst important targets within the enemy's ranks, marking them for a particularly gruesome death as soon as a pack of Ripperdactyls catches the scent of their favourite prey.

Troop Type: Behemoth
Base Size: 50 x 100 mm
Unit Size: 1
Equipment: Slashing talons (see below) and scaly skin (counts as heavy armour)
Special Rules: Blood Frenzy, Close Order, Cold Blooded, Large Target, Stomp Attacks (2), Swiftstride, Terror

Blood Frenzy

Carnosaurs are huge, aggressive creatures that become almost impossible to control when they taste the blood of the enemy.

When this model (but not its rider) inflicts an unsaved wound upon an enemy model, it becomes subject to the Frenzy special rule. A model with this special rule may become Frenzied in this way even if it has lost Frenzy earlier in the game.

Note that this model's rider does not gain a +1 modifier to their Attacks characteristic.

	R	S	AP	Special Rules
Slashing talons	Combat	S	-3	Multiple Wounds (D3)

Notes: The Multiple Wounds (D3) special rule only applies against enemy models whose troop type is 'monster'.

Character Mount: A Carnosaur may only be included in your army as a character's mount. Its points are added to that of its rider.

Cavalry

Carnosaurs

A Carnosaur's roar is so greatly feared by the denizens of Lustria, it will silence the surrounding jungle as it echoes through the trees as beasts great and small run and hide in an effort to avoid becoming its next meal – even Stegadons are forced to huddle together and present a wall of pointed horns in the hopes of driving the Carnosaur away. Once it has tasted blood, a Carnosaur will enter a state of total bloodlust; biting and tearing at any living creature it can find. Carnosaur eggs are highly prized by the Lizardmen, as the hatchlings can eventually be trained to accept a rider and act as mounts for the most venerated Saurus Oldbloods and Scar-Veterans.

Note that, because it has the Howdah special rule, a Stegadon or Ancient Stegadon is considered to be a chariot mount, rather than a ridden monster.

Monster

Stegadons

Stegadons are squat creatures of immense size and weight, whose huge heads are covered with crests thicker than any forged armour, out of which project enormous horns that skewer and stab at those foolish enough to stand in their path. Since the earliest days of their existence, the Lizardmen have used Stegadons to clear roadways through the jungle, drag huge blocks of masonry to building sites and other tasks suited to such a massive beast of burden. In war, they carry out devastating shock attacks as they trample and gore those in their path, as crews of Skinks hurl javelins and shoot darts from the safety of large howdahs attached to the beasts' backs.

Ancient Stegadons

As Stegadons get older, they grow stronger and more resilient. The most revered of these venerable creatures are chosen to carry the archaic war machine known as the Engine of the Gods. Though the secrets of these ancient machines have been lost to time, when its thrumming runes are activated in a certain order, lances of light fly from the arcane device, sundering the enemies of the Lizardmen.

	R	S	AP	Special Rules

Monster

Bastiladons

A walking fortress of armour plates, the Bastiladon is one of the most heavily armoured creatures in Lustria. Covered in rock-hard leathery skin, even the Bastiladon's most vulnerable areas are all but impervious to most weapons, and the massive iron-like plates that cover its back and head can even thwart the bite of a Carnosaur. When ridden to war by Skinks, Bastiladons will bear the great weight of treasured weapons from deep within the bowels of the temple cities' vaults, such as a blessed Ark of Sotek or the destructive might of a Solar Engine.

Arks of Sotek

As the Bastiladon pounds towards its enemies, the Skink crew activate strange glyphs and rake the coals beneath. From out of the Ark's sacred confines pour forth an endless supply of serpents, eager to attack the nearest foe.

Solar Engine

When activated, a Solar Engine radiates invigorating rays that, when the attending Skink crew intone the correct blessings to Chotec, coalesce into an intense beam of heat which burns the foe like the rays of the sun itself.

The wailing cry of a Troglodon stirs the savagery within all Lizardmen and proves they have the Old Ones' favour.

Once per game, during the Command sub-phase of their turn, this model may attempt to unleash the primeval savagery of the Lizardmen by making a Leadership test (using its own Leadership). If this test is passed, until the end of that turn all friendly Lizardmen units within 7" of this model gain the Furious Charge special rule.

Notes: When a model using this weapon makes a roll To Wound, a roll of 5+ is always a success, regardless of the target's Toughness.

Monster

Troglodons

Known as the Pale Death, Troglodons are dangerous subterranean creatures that only emerge from their dens to hunt. Near-blind, they rely upon a keen sense of smell and quill-like whiskers to track movement and hunt their prey, before delivering a powerful, venom-empowered bite. If that wasn't deadly enough, they can also spray that same venom in a powerful stream, bathing any would-be attackers in the caustic fluid. Whilst these twin-tailed beasts are near untamable to most, they will swiftly submit to Skink Oracles should the diminutive priests need the great beasts' aid. Mounted atop a Troglodon, a Skink Oracle will travel the length and breadth of Lustria in search of the Old Ones' lost artefacts in the hopes of divining more of the Great Plan.

DISCIPLINES OF THE OLD ONES

Soul Of Stone..... 10 points

Both the mind and body of the Slann Mage-Priest is hardened against the ill effects of magic.

When rolling on the Miscast table, this character can modify the result by -1 (to a minimum of 2), or by +1 (to a maximum of 12).

LIZARDMEN MAGIC ITEMS

Magic Items

Magic Items

The Old Ones were masters of the mystic arts, arcane engineers who could manipulate the very fabric of space and time with but a thought. They created a great many devices which they gifted to their subject races, so that their servants might wield a portion of the Old Ones' own powers in the pursuance of the Great Plan.

When the Great Catastrophe struck and the Old Ones departed the world, a large number of these devices were lost with them. The operation of the few artefacts that survive turned long ago from science to superstition. Indeed, so great has the loss of knowledge been that it is believed there still exist great repositories of magical devices that the Lizardmen have lost all knowledge of.

Magic Armour

Shield Of The Mirror Pool .....40 points

Hostile enemy magic is absorbed by this ancient shield, and reflected back upon the caster.

The Shield of the Mirror Pool is a shield. In addition, each time the bearer loses one or more Wounds to a Magic Missile, the caster suffers a single Strength 5 hit with an AP of -2.

Hide Of The Cold Ones .....20 points

The hide of a Cold One exudes a toxic slime that dulls the wearer's mind.

May be worn with other armour. The wearer of the Hide of the Cold Ones improves their armour value by 1 (to a maximum of 2+). However, its wearer is also subject to the Stupidity special rule.

Talismans

Glyph Necklace .....45 points

This ancient token of protection wards off attacks, causing enemies to fumble their blows.

The bearer of the Glyph Necklace has a 5+ Ward save against any wounds suffered and gains the Magic Resistance (-2) special rule.

Aura Of Quetzl .....40 points

Blessed by Quetzl, this string of beaded shells, feathers and bones exudes a powerful protective aura.

Any enemy model that directs its attacks against the bearer of the Aura of Quetzl during the Combat phase suffers a -1 modifier to its rolls To Hit.

Magic Standards

Sun Standard Of Chotec .....40 points

Beams of reflected sunlight blind all who look too long upon the Sun Standard of Chotec.

Enemy units cannot declare a Stand & Shoot charge reaction against a unit carrying the Sun Standard of Chotec. In addition, any enemy model that targets a unit carrying this banner during the Shooting phase suffers an additional -1 To Hit modifier.

Skavenpelt Banner .....35 points

The stench of this ragged Skaven hide fires the blood of those who venerate Sotek.

A unit carrying the Skavenpelt Banner gains the Frenzy and Hatred (Skaven) special rules.

Totem Of Prophecy .....30 Points

Those who look upon this totem witness the truth and learn of their insignificance in the scheme of the Old Ones.

A unit carrying the Totem of Prophecy gains the Fear special rule.

Jaguar Standard .....20 points

Those in the shadow of this jungle beast hunt down their enemies with relentless ferocity.

When a unit carrying the Jaguar Standard makes a Pursuit roll, it may roll an extra D6 and discard the lowest result.

Enchanted Items

Cloak Of Feathers ..... 40 points

When the wearer of this finely woven cloak extends their arms, the feathers rise up like powerful wings, lifting them into the air.

Skink Heroes whose troop type is 'infantry' only. The wearer of the Cloak of Feathers gains the Fly (10) and Swiftstride special rules.

Venom Of The Firefly Frog ..... 15 points

Extracted from the rare and deadly firefly frog, even a tiny amount of this poison can prove fatal.

All attacks made during the Combat phase by the bearer of the Venom of the Firefly Frog have the Poisoned Attacks and Flaming Attacks special rules.

Note that this only applies to non-magical weapons and does not apply to a model's mount (should it have one).

Horned One* ..... 10 points

Horned Ones are a very rare, highly intelligent and preternaturally swift sub-species of Cold One.

This magic item may only be taken by a Saurus Hero mounted on a Cold One. This character's mount loses the Stupidity special rule and has Movement characteristic of 8.

Arcane Items

Cube Of Darkness* ..... 50 points

Through careful contemplation, this small black cube may be opened for a fraction of a second, drawing the Winds of Magic into its depths.

Single use. A Wizard may use this item instead of making a dispel attempt. If they do so, the spell is automatically dispelled with no Dispel roll required. In addition, all 'remains in play' spells currently in play are dispelled, including spells cast by friendly Wizards.

Itxi Grub* ..... 30 points

The Wizard carries a gourd containing magically charged (and delicious) Itxi grubs.

Single use. Before making a Casting roll, the bearer may attempt to consume a single Itxi Grub by making a Toughness test. If this test is passed, the bearer may apply a +3 modifier to the Casting roll. However, if this test is failed, the bearer immediately loses a single Wound.

Cupped Hands Of The Old Ones ..... 55 points

A sphere of glowing light extends around the bearer as the divine protection of the Old Ones deflects the uncontrolled maelstrom of the Winds of Magic.

Should the bearer of the Cupped Hands of the Old Ones miscast a spell, roll a D6. On a roll of 1, the bearer rolls on the Miscast table as normal. On a roll of 2+, the bearer instead nominates an enemy character. Centre a 3" blast template over this character. Every model whose base lies underneath the template risks being hit and suffering a single Strength 6 hit with an AP of -2.

LIZARDMEN SPECIAL RULES

A game of Warhammer: the Old World is packed with fantastic creatures and skilled warriors with abilities so incredible and varied that the basic rules cannot possibly cover them all. For such circumstances we have special rules – uncommon rules to govern uncommon circumstances.

On this page you will find a full description for each of the army special rules used by models drawn from the Lizardmen army list:

Arcane Vassal

Slann Mage-Priests are able to view the world and channel their sorcery through the eyes of their attendant Skink Priests and Oracles.

Once per turn, unless this model is fleeing or engaged in combat, a single friendly Slann Mage-Priest that is within 12" of this model may 'channel' a spell through this model. If they do, the range, targeting restrictions and all effects of the spell are measured from this model, rather than from the caster. If the spell requires a line of sight, it is determined from this model.

Note that spells with a range of 'Self' cannot be channelled in this way.

Aquatic

Many of Lustria's denizens have an affinity for water, moving with equal ease through swamp and river as they do over land.

Models with this special rule do not suffer any modifiers to their Movement characteristic when moving through any difficult or dangerous terrain feature which has been designated a 'water feature'. This might include shallow streams or fords, swampy ground, fast flowing rivers, ponds or lakes, and players should agree prior to the game if any terrain is a water feature.

Beast Handlers

Salamanders and Razordons are wild creatures that are often herded into battle by teams of fearless Skink Handlers.

When an enemy unit shoots at a Salamander or Razordon Pack that contains one or more Skink Handlers, the enemy player must roll a D6 for each successful roll To Hit before making any rolls To Wound. On a roll of 1-4, the hit is inflicted upon a Salamander or Razordon. On a roll of 5+, the hit is inflicted upon a Skink Handler. In combat, enemy models must allocate their attacks against a model they are in base contact with (or against the closest model if they are within the fighting rank but not in base contact) before rolling To Hit.

Cleaving Blow

With a swift and deadly strike, a skilled warrior can cleave through armour.

If a model with this special rule rolls a natural 6 when making a roll To Wound for an attack made in combat, it has struck a 'Cleaving Blow'. Enemy models whose troop type is 'regular infantry', 'heavy infantry', 'light cavalry', 'heavy cavalry' or 'war beasts' are not permitted an armour or Regeneration save against a Cleaving Blow (Ward saves can be attempted as normal).

Note that if an attack wounds automatically, this special rule cannot be used.

Cold Blooded

To other races, the cold blooded Lizardmen seem incapable of emotion.

When required to make a Fear, Panic or Terror test, models with this special rule may roll an extra D6 and discard the highest result.

Drop Rocks

Skinks train Terradons to glide over the battlefield clutching great rocks in their talons.

Once per game, a unit with this special rule may perform a 'Drop Rocks' attack against a single enemy unit that is not engaged in combat. To do so, this unit must move (by flying) over the unit it wishes to attack during the Remaining Moves sub-phase. Once this unit's movement is complete, the enemy unit suffers D3 Strength 4 hits, each with an AP of -, for each model in this unit that moved over it.

Obsidian Blades

Lizardmen favour weapons studded with shards of razor sharp volcanic glass that cut through flesh and armour with ease.

A hand weapon carried by a model with this special rule has an Armour Piercing characteristic of -1.

Note that this special rule only applies to a single, non-magical hand weapon and does not apply to a model's mount (should it have one). If the model is using two hand weapons or any other sort of weapon, this special rule ceases to apply.

LORE OF LUSTRIA

The Slann Mage-Priests are masters of magic able to wield tremendous power with almost contemptuous ease. With this power they are able to alter the environment around them and the fates of their loyal servants, summoning rains to wash away their foes, or calling upon the Winds of Magic to heal their champions.

A Wizard with the 'Lore of Lustria' special rule may discard one of their randomly generated spells as normal. When they do so, they may select instead either the signature spell of their chosen Lore of Magic, or one of the spells listed below.

Apotheosis

Waves of pure magic infuse the caster's ally, healing their wounds and giving them a palpable aura of power and dread.

Type: Enchantment

Casting Value: 10+ /12+

Range: 24"

Effect: This spell can only target friendly characters whose troop type is 'infantry' or 'cavalry', but may target characters engaged in combat. If this spell is cast with a casting result of 10 or more, the target friendly model immediately regains D3 lost Wounds. If this spell is cast with a casting result of 12 or more, the target friendly model immediately regains D3+1 lost Wounds.

In addition, the target friendly character gains the Fear special rule. If they already have the Fear special rule, they instead gain the Terror special rule.

Monsoon

Without warning, an eight-winded storm breaks about the foe. Torrential rain drenches weapons and armour, loosening bowstrings and soaking black powder.

Type: Magical Vortex

Casting Value: 8+

Range: 15"

Effect: Remains in play. Place a large (5") blast template so that its central hole is within 15" of the caster. Whilst in play, the template is treated as dangerous terrain over which no line of sight can be drawn. The template moves D6" in a random direction during every Start of Turn sub-phase. Any enemy unit the moving template touches or moves over becomes 'drenched' for the remainder of the game.

A drenched unit suffers a -1 To Hit modifier during the Shooting phase. A drenched model whose troop type is 'war machine' must roll a D6 before shooting. On a roll of 1, the model fails to shoot this turn.
